About

Since I started working as a graphic designer in 2007, I've had the pleasure of working with cool people and clients. I'm passionate about brand identity, typography, photography, web design and everything that aims to create great experiences for the end user.

When I'm not designing you'll probably find me riding my motorcycle or my bicycle. I find a lot of inspiration in travel and reading, and I try to do both as much as I can.
